DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-27, 36-40, drawn to methods for detecting a boundary crossing, classified in class 701, subclass 207.
  - II. Claims 28-35, drawn to a system for detecting a crossing of a boundary, classified in class 340, subclass 995.14. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:
2. Inventions I and II are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another and materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the process can be practiced by another apparatus, such as with pen and paper, operator, and a scout.
  1. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:
    - a. Genus I: A method for detecting a crossing of a boundary, wherein the pre-selected response includes:
      - i. Embodiment 1: determining a new jurisdiction entered as a result of the boundary crossing; loading a boundary for the new jurisdiction; and detecting a crossing of the new jurisdiction boundary

- ii. Embodiment 2: gathering information related to the boundary crossing.
- b. Genus II: A method for detecting a crossing of a boundary, wherein the gathered information is:
  - iii. Embodiment 1: Sent over a wireless interface to a central server
  - iv. Embodiment 2: Stored on the device being monitored.
- c. Genus III: A method for detecting a crossing of a boundary, further comprising:
  - v. Embodiment 1: Determining a distance covered within a jurisdiction defined by the boundary
  - vi. Embodiment 2: determining an amount of fuel used within a jurisdiction defined by a boundary
  - vii. Embodiment 3: determining statistics related to a jurisdiction defined by the boundary
  - viii. Embodiment 4: retrieving adjacent jurisdiction boundary data when a boundary crossing is indicated, with the adjacent jurisdiction boundary data defining rectangles associated with a boundary of an adjacent jurisdiction that is occupied after a boundary crossing.
- d. Genus IV: A system for detecting a crossing of a boundary, the system further comprising:

- ix. Embodiment 1: a mobile transmitter operable to selectively send a message based on the position of the monitored device relative to the predetermined boundary
- x. Embodiment 2: a second processor operable to calculate the at least one angle of rotation and to rotate the original coordinates defining the predetermined boundary by the corresponding angle of rotation to generate the rotated coordinates prior to storing the at least one angle of rotation and the rotated coordinates in the memory.

The species are independent or distinct because for each genus, individual species are mutually exclusive in nature.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, none are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species.

MPEP § 809.02(a).

2. A telephone call was made to Spencer Patterson on 04 January 2008 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.
